Message from the Assistant Vice President for Alumni and Parent Engagement

Dear Oxy alumni, parents, family and friends,

Welcome to Homecoming and Family Weekend 2014! I’m thrilled to welcome you back home.

In this program, you’ll find all the information you need to have a fun-filled and rewarding experience. Scan the schedule of activities on pages 2-3, and you’ll see there’s a lot to enjoy this weekend!

There are many opportunities to cheer on our Tiger athletes, including the football game against the Claremont-Mudd-Scripps Stags on Saturday night. Also cheer on our women’s soccer team against the University of La Verne and the men’s water polo team against Claremont-Mudd-Scripps.

Show up early – the Tiger Tailgate and Oswald’s Carnival are sure to be great fun.

There’s something for every Tiger in this weekend’s diverse programming. Take part in a campus tour to see what’s new, one or more of our career sessions, and attend a progress report on implementing Oxy’s vision. And, of course, I encourage you to soak up the vocal stylings of our world-famous Glee Club at its Homecoming and Family Weekend concert.

Parents, if it’s your student’s first year, I’m sure it feels like you were just here helping your student settle into their new adventure. I think you’ll be pleased to find them fully engaged in their academic career. Get a taste of college life by participating in Student for a Day, an opportunity to attend classes with your student and find out what it’s really like to be in the classroom at Oxy. If you’ve toted along the little ones, Oxy Children’s Theater is a sure hit (with those young at heart, too).

Throughout the weekend, Oxy staff and volunteers will be on hand to help. If we don’t know the answer, we’ll be able to find someone who does.

Have a great time. GO, TIGERS!

Io Triumpe!

Tyler L. Reich
Assistant Vice President for Alumni and Parent Engagement

SATURDAY SESSIONS

11:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m.
“Learning Beyond Campus Walls”
Johnson Hall 203
Life’s best lessons are often learned outside the classroom. Oxy students enhance their education through study abroad, internships and special programs like Oxy at the UN and Campaign Semester. Come hear from Oxy staff, including Peter Drier, professor of politics, and Liselda Fabian, internship coordinator, about how the entire Oxy community is working to shape the next generation of Oxy alumni by providing real-world experiences for today’s students.

11:30 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.
“Great Professors Make Great Students”
Johnson Hall 302
The close relationship between students and faculty is at the heart of the Oxy experience. Research shows that students who have at least one formative relationship with a professor later become the most engaged professionals. Hear some of our great teachers, including economics professor Bevin Ashenmiller and her student, Elwyn Pratt ’15, along with current UCLA law student Katelyn Rowe ’13, and her mentor, politics professor Thalia Gonzalez. The two pairs will discuss their academic research and relationship.

2 p.m. – 3 p.m.
“Millennials in the Marketplace”
Johnson Hall 203
There are a million things you can do with your Oxy education, and just as many ways to launch your professional life. Whether you’re looking to find that first job or you’re considering a career change, managing a career in your 20s is a challenge. Hear from three recent Oxy grads: Mirin Fader ’13, sports reporter at the Orange County Register; Rodrigo Bandeira ’13, senior associate at First Republic Investment Management; and Margaret de Larios ’12, education and outreach specialist at Council for Watershed Health. They will discuss how they landed their first post-Oxy opportunity and what they’ve learned since graduation.

2 p.m. – 3 p.m.
“Money Matters”
Johnson Hall 302
A college education remains one of the best investments a person can make in their future. But managing the cost is a challenge, and becoming financially literate is more important than ever for students. Learn about Oxy’s efforts from Gina Becerril, senior assistant director of financial aid, as she provides a variety of money lessons about the stuff students may not learn in the classroom – like budgeting, identity theft, student loans and more.

The Occidental College Athletics Hall of Fame honors members of the Oxy community for outstanding achievement in competition and service, dedication and commitment to Occidental athletics. Operating under the authority of Occidental College, the Athletics Hall of Fame Committee selects and inducts individuals and teams worthy of recognition while upholding the integrity of the institution and its athletics program.

Roy Dennis ’33 joined the athletics department in 1934 and retired as athletics director in 1970. As head football coach, he led the Tigers to a 53-40-4 mark, including Oxy’s 1948 Raisin Bowl win. He also coached varsity swimming and water polo for 30 years, winning 17 SCIAC titles.

Maxine McMasters Mitchell ’45 picked up her first sword at Oxy after her older brother enrolled her in a fencing class. She won her first national title in 1952 and represented the United States in the 1952, 1956, 1960 and 1968 Olympic Games. She coached the one-woman Panamanian fencing team in 1984.

Bob Ashford ’52 pitched the Tigers to the first of four straight SCIAC championships as a junior and carried Bill Anderson’s squad to a 10-0 SCIAC season in 1952, hitting .600 to lead the league and winning all nine of his starts. Ashford was named Occidental’s co-athlete of the year in 1951-52.

John Barnes ’52 was an NCAA champion and record-holder in the men’s 800m run in 1951 and 1952. Barnes represented the United States in that event at the 1952 Summer Olympics in Helsinki. He also was a member of Oxy’s 1950 relay team that ran a 3:10.1 mile—then one of the top times in the world.

Ted Tiffany ’57 transferred to Oxy as a sophomore from Glendale College. He was an NCAA All-American in 1957 and the Tigers’ all-time leading scorer from 1957 to 1993, with 1,336 points. Tiffany became the first player selected to the Oxy Men’s Basketball Hall of Fame in 1986.

Shawn Lawson-Cummings ’86 is a two-time NCAA heptathlon champion and one of only three women ever to earn NCAA All-American status in each of her four years. All totaled, she was awarded the honor nine times across four events after setting school records in six different events.

John McGrath ’63 is a three-time Amateur Athletic Union champ in shot put. McGrath’s combined shot put/discus results in 1963 were the best in NCAA history at the time. His best discus throw was 195’ 7” in 1966, and his toss of 61’ 2¾” in shot put at the 1963 SCIAC Championships is still the conference record.

What do you like most about your major?
It encompasses all life and shows an appreciation for it. I’ve developed my own perspective on life based on my studies of biology.

What are your on-campus activities?
I am a student admissions blogger for Her Campus Oxy, private tutor, recruitment chair and new member educator for Alpha Lambda Phi Alpha and junior editor for undergraduate law review. I interned at the Los Angeles mayor’s office and Oxy’s Urban & Environmental Policy Institute.

How are you funding your education?
All of my financial needs are met by scholarships from the financial aid office. Thank you to all the donors who have supported my education by giving to the Annual Fund!

What can you do at Oxy that you can’t do anywhere else?
When I ask for help, I get it. That’s one of the many benefits of Oxy’s small size. I have one-on-one relationships with all of my professors. And I love learning in a tightknit community of passionate intellectuals.

Favorite Oxy memory?
At other institutions, accomplished professors can be intimidating, but at Oxy they go out of their way to be approachable. I will treasure the opportunities I have had like having lunch with professors and getting to know them in a different environment from the classroom.

Why’d you pick Oxy?
I chose Oxy because I wanted to be in a big city but also get the small school experience. Oxy is an oasis within Los Angeles - it gives me the small close-knit environment I need to succeed academically, but also allows me to explore everything a big city has to offer.

Your gift makes a difference. Invest in the kind of education that can only happen at Oxy. Support the Oxy Annual Fund at oxy.edu/support
